How does it work?

No previous experience is necessary to be a SpanishFullTime ambassador.

The only thing we ask is that you have free time to organize Spanish conversation groups or Spanish and English exchange groups at least twice a month. The ideal would be once a week, but we understand that it is not always possible for everyone due to other personal or work commitments.

The conversation groups are not classes so the organizer does not act as a teacher, you would simply have to coordinate the group by offering topics, a guide with questions or some role play to facilitate the flow of the conversation and that the participants do not run out of topics.

Being an ambassador can be interesting for English or Spanish teachers, having the possibility of promoting their services, or for any other person who organizes other types of events who likes Spanish and is interested in obtaining extra income while enjoying practicing his Spanish.

Ambassadors must be over 18 years old.

If you are thinking about traveling to Spain or any Latin American country and want to be an ESOL teacher, organizing English and Spanish exchange groups can be a perfect way to gain some experience.

What are the advantages of being an ambassador?

At SpanishFullTime we charge each individual Spanish conversation event or individual Spanish and English exchange events at £5 per event.

The ambassadors keep the entire amount of individual per event tickets and the entirety of any activity they carry out, whether or not related to something in Spanish culture, such as cooking classes, book clubs, guides trips. Photography, literary writing classes, etc. These are just some examples of complementary activities that ambassadors can carry out.

There is only one condition:
For activities other than conversation meetups but that are offered to SpanishFullTime clients, members who have paid the annual fee must obtain a discount of at least 30% on that activity.

SpanishFullTime members can also attend conversation events in any city, no matter if they registered in that city, whether they are on vacation or moving to another city, they can always attend all conversation events for free if they have paid the individual or couple annual fee.

Ambassadors receive £20 from the annual membership fee for each student they recruit. £30 pounds if it is a couple membership.

The ambassadors also participate in travel competitions with other ambassadors from other cities where we reward the ambassadors for the number of clients attracted or the originality of the extra activities planned.

How much you can earn will depend on the dedication you put into organizing the conversation events, you can organize as many events as you want, the ideal would be one event a week, but that is up to you to decide.

The more marketing you do to promote SpanishFullTime events as an ambassador the better because that will lead to attracting more clients in your city. We try not to have more than 2 ambassadors per city to give the greatest possibilities of profitability to each ambassador and we are also planning future travel competitions to Spain, we will do them more times a year depending on the number of clients in other cities.

If you are interested in being an ambassador, you just have to fill out this FORM.
